

Local Review

Sam and Twitch: The Writer #1

Bill-E

Sam and Twitch follows a similar formula to most murder mystery comics. A couple aspects set this story apart from others. The first thing readers will notice is the lettering. In the opening pages the narrative is left on pieces of paper or objects throughout a room. This creates a serious and threatening tone for what readers should suspect is the life of the killer. Another hook to the story is Sam and Twitch; two detectives working a cold, lonely precinct. A larger, boisterous tough guy cop is always paralleled and with the seemingly thinner, intelligent and tactical partner. Finally the murder is the big hook. A body is found with what is believed to be the start of a story carved into the torso. If you ever have seen Seven, then you know what I mean. Overall, this story stands out in my stack not only to my love of murder mysteries but do to a well rounded creation between writing and art. 8.5 out of 10. *SUGGESTED FOR MATURE READERS* (language and graphic visuals)