X-Force #27

Bill-E

Chapter 7 of “Second Coming” is provided by Craig Kyle & Chris Yost with Mike Choi on art. Let us start with Choi. Simply putting I love just staring at each panel that he does. The first quarter or so is caption free to show the violent battle between the X-Men and the Nimrod army. Choi’s style is somewhat static, but still I stand behind him and say it is probably the best art through the event. Kyle & Yost’s keep this event consistent and driving forward to the next chapter. As long as Fraction and company can keep me from thinking this could have ended issues ago, and make a memorable finish then this X-crossover event is well worth the time and money, and I’m confident (cross fingers) that I will feel fully satisfied. 7.6 out of 10.
